

Ascend Partners: Mastery in Manufacturing Finance.

Unify Production with Financial Performance.

Manufacturing organizations operate in an environment defined by shifting demand, volatile input costs, complex supply chains, and tight margins. Finance must keep pace—connecting operational activity across plants, suppliers, and production lines to real-time financial insight.

Ascend Partners helps manufacturers modernize planning, forecasting, and financial management with the OneStream platform, delivering a unified, enterprise-grade foundation that drives efficiency, visibility, and strategic growth.

Why OneStream for Manufacturing?

Traditional finance processes struggle to keep up with the speed and complexity of modern manufacturing. It's a space where production costs fluctuate, resource allocation must constantly adapt, and decisions have enterprise-wide impact.

That's why Ascend implements OneStream to provide:

▶ A Unified View of Operations and Finance

Bring together financial and operational data into a single platform—enabling leaders to understand performance across plants, products, and supply chains with clarity and confidence.

▶ Streamlined Planning, Budgeting & Forecasting

Replace fragmented models and spreadsheets with integrated processes that simplify budgeting, forecasting, and financial analysis.

▶ Advanced Scenario Analysis

Leverage built-in tools to assess “what-if” scenarios—helping leaders anticipate changes in demand, costs, and supply disruptions to make informed decisions.

▶ Actionable Business Intelligence

Deliver clear, data-driven insights that empower finance and operations teams to drive efficiency, optimize resources, and support long-term growth.

Together, these capabilities enable finance teams to move beyond reporting—becoming strategic partners in optimizing manufacturing performance.

Manufacturing in Action: Unifying Planning and Performance

In a recent engagement with a global packaging manufacturer, Ascend helped transform disjointed planning processes into a unified, integrated business planning environment within OneStream. By consolidating data, workflows, and forecasting into a single platform:

- ▶ Finance and operations were unified through a single source of truth, eliminating fragmented metadata and disconnected systems.
- ▶ Scenario modelling became faster and more effective, supported by real-time FX data and simplified forecasting processes.
- ▶ Manual processes and system complexity were reduced, replacing error-prone data transfers with automated integration and workflows.
- ▶ Data governance, traceability, and oversight improved, with centralized workflows, audit trails, and enhanced security controls.

The Ascend Difference

Selecting the right technology is only part of the equation. Real transformation comes from how that technology is implemented and aligned to your business.

Ascend Partners brings deep manufacturing expertise together with OneStream's powerful platform to deliver solutions that address the realities of modern production environments.

We focus on delivering measurable value through:

▶ Industry-Specific Financial Transformation

Our expertise in manufacturing finance enables us to streamline complex processes—such as cost allocations and production-related financial workflows—while aligning them to real operational drivers.

▶ Scenario Planning with Strategic Guidance

We help organizations not only model different financial outcomes but also interpret them—ensuring decisions align with long-term operational and financial goals.

▶ Tailored Integration for Complete Visibility

Our approach configures OneStream's unified data model to manufacturing environments, delivering a holistic and actionable view of performance across the organization.

▶ Precision Planning Built on Industry Expertise

By combining granular planning capabilities with deep sector knowledge, we enable highly accurate forecasts that reflect real manufacturing conditions and constraints.

The outcome is not just a modernized finance function; it is a connected, insight-driven organization built for efficiency and sustained profitability.
